Ethical AI Use Disclosure

Some clients hire me to coach them on using gen-AI to write better.

Some clients expect and want me to use gen-AI to create and modify content for them.

Some clients don't mind whether I use gen-AI or not, as long as I'm protecting their information and working ethically.

Some clients don't want me to use AI at all.

I serve all these clients.

I've completed specific AI for Editors courses with respected leaders in my industry to ensure that, if you want me to use AI while working on your content, I can do so efficiently and ethically. I continue to increase my knowledge of AI to provide the best services I can for my clients. I can also coach you on AI tools, functions, prompting, and what not to do.

AI does not work without humans. I am always the human in the loop, checking, verifying, and changing the output as needed.

AI is here to stay, and it's changing all the time, quickly. We don't have to use it, but many people are using it, sometimes without even knowing it.

Allow me to provide efficient and ethical editing services for you, with or without AI. It's your choice.
